

Dr. Sharon Hoffman earned her Veterinary degree at Louisiana State University. After several years in primary care practice she began advanced training in veterinary dentistry and oral surgery. She became a Board Certified Veterinary Dental Specialist® in 2005. Dr. Hoffman is the owner of Veterinary Dental Consulting, which offers services to build, train, and enhance dentistry services in primary care practice. She is adjunct faculty at the University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine.

Dr. Hoffman has taught locally, nationally, and internationally and shares her passion for relieving oral pain and restoring comfort to pets in need. She has published articles for medical journals and publications for the pet owner on dental and oral care topics. She has been awarded the Gold Star Award for outstanding contributions to Veterinary Medicine in Florida.

When she is not looking into the mouths of her patients, you may find her behind her camera as the photographer at Coastal Fine Photo (@coastalfinephoto). Albert Einstein once said, “The greatest scientists, are artists as well.”
